Working Papers and Publications Series

Department of Health Systems Management
Rush University

The Working Papers and Publications Series reflect the research in progress by faculty, fellows and graduate students in the Department. They are made available in advance of publication in order to disseminate results to other researchers as an exchange of scholarly ideas and approaches as they are being developed. As such, the Working Papers and Publication Series must be considered preliminary and should not be cited or quoted without appropriate credit to the author(s). The Working Papers and Publications Series is available at www.rushu.rush.edu/hsm.
