INTERPROFESSIONAL CONTINUING EDUCATION

2026 Global Health Symposium

Navigating health challenges amid displacement, migration, and conflict

3/30/2026 – 4/2/2026

Chicago, IL 60612

Learning Objectives

- Assess the political climate and identify 3 barriers driving poor health in our immigrant population, including access, gaps in research, gaps in mental health, lack of knowledge around diseases acquired during the immigration process, including vaccinations gaps.
- Describe the current obstacles in research and practice and develop a strategy to deliver optimal care to immigrants in Chicago and beyond.
- Customize care being delivered to immigrants including assessments and management of common mental and physical health conditions experienced by immigrants.
- Expand research to recognize conditions experienced by immigrants and improve clinical practice, and advocate locally and nationally for immigrant wellbeing.

Disclosure Information

Unapproved Uses of Drugs/Devices: In accordance with requirements of the FDA, the audience is advised that information presented in this continuing medical education activity may contain references to unlabeled or unapproved uses of drugs or devices. Please refer to the FDA approved package insert for each drug/device for full prescribing/utilization information.

It is the policy of the Interprofessional Continuing Education office at RUSH to ensure that its CE activities are independent, free of commercial bias. Therefore, we manage all financial relationships associated with accredited continuing education activities. RUSH asks everyone who has the ability to control or influence the content of an educational activity to disclose information about all of their financial relationships with ineligible companies within the prior 24 months. An ineligible company is an entity whose primary business is producing, marketing, selling, re-selling or distributing healthcare products used by or on patients. There is no minimum threshold; individuals must disclose all financial relationships, regardless of the amount, with ineligible companies. Individuals must disclose regardless of their view of the relevance of relationships to education.

Mechanisms are in place to identify and mitigate any potential conflicts of interest prior to the planning, implementation, or evaluation of the continuing education activity. If a financial relationship is identified for the person in control of content, conflict mitigation strategies will be used to mitigate the financial relationship before they assume their role. Individuals in control of content for this activity have the following relevant financial relationships with ineligible companies to disclose and all financial relationships have been mitigated.
