The Rush Health Systems Management (HSM) program is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Management Education (CAHME), the only Department of Education recognized accreditor for graduate health administration programs. Although similar in content to the other top health care management programs, our program, which is situated in a world class academic medical center, has the advantage of providing students with a greater breadth and depth of practical, hands-on competencies and experience, than a traditional, university-based program.
