RESEARCH AND TRAINING GRANTS

Fellowships

Fulbright Scholar Award to Austria, “Lecturing and Research: Health Economics and Comparative Health Care Systems/Assessing the Effect of Medical Tourism for the U.S. and Austria,” Vienna University of Economics and Business Administration
 March 2009 – June 2009

Active Research Grants

Smart Walk: A Culturally Tailored Smartphone-Delivered Physical Activity Intervention to Reduce Cardiometabolic Disease Risk Among African American Women

1R01 HL168170-01 (Joseph) 04/2023 – 03/2028
 NIH/NHLBI $3,310,252

The goal of this project is to conduct a fully-power efficacy trial of Smart Walk, a culturally relevant, Social Cognitive Theory-based smartphone-delivered intervention designed to increase physical activity and reduce cardiometabolic disease risk among African American women with obesity.

Role: Co-Investigator

Early Childhood Neurodevelopmental, Economic and Nutritional Outcomes among Former Very Low Birth Weight Infants from the Reducing Disparity in Mother’s Own Milk (ReDiMOM) Trial

1R01HD107348 - 01A1 (Patel & Johnson) 09/2022 – 05/2027
 NIH/NICHD $3,193,234

The major goals of this proposal are to evaluate the long-term effectiveness, after discharge from the NICU, of an economic intervention designed to facilitate maternal adherence to pumping and providing mother’s own milk to very low birth weight infants while in the NICU.

Role: Multiple Principal Investigator

Chicago Chronic Condition Equity Network

P50MD017349 (Huang & Lynch) 09/2021 – 06/2026
NIH/NIMHD $8,885,833

The Chicago Chronic Condition Equity Network (C3EN) will address health disparities in the burden of multiple chronic diseases that are attributed to racial segregation and gaps in economic opportunities and the healthcare system. C3EN will strengthen and build collaborations across community-based organizations, practice networks, and academic researchers by promoting a comprehensive approach to the prevention and management of multiple chronic conditions that accounts for mental health, functional health and social life, and by supporting interventions that actively seek to cross boundaries of disease-specific management, professional training, community and practice.

Role: Co-Investigator

Coleman Palliative Medicine Training Program

21-116924 (Levin; University of Chicago) 07/2021 – 06/2022
Coleman Foundation $250,000 annual

This project evaluates outcomes from the Coleman Palliative Medicine Training Program related to (1) outreach, community engagement and needs assessments and (2) training health providers from underserved communities and increasing the palliative care workforce.

Role: Co-Investigator

Reducing Disparity in Receipt of Mother's Own Milk in Very Low Birth Weight Infants: An Economic Intervention to Improve Adherence to Sustained Maternal Breast Pump Use

R01MD013969 (Patel & Johnson) 04/2020 – 12/2024
NIH/NIHMD $3,189,972

The purpose of this clinical trial is to test an economic intervention for increasing the provision of mother's own milk for very low birth weight infants at discharge from the neonatal intensive care unit.

Role: Multiple Principal Investigator

Coleman Palliative Medicine Training Program, Phase III, to Improve Access for Patients with Cancer

5774 (O'Mahony) 01/2018 – 06/2022
Coleman Foundation $250,000 annual

This project builds on two prior phases of training clinicians in palliative care in the Chicago metropolitan area, with a focus on improving access to palliative care services for patients with cancer.

Role: Co-Investigator

Value and Mechanisms of Home Visitation in Obesity Interventions for Low-Income Children

R01DK111358 (Appelhans) 2/2017 – 01/2023
NIH/NIDDK

The goal of this project is to systematically evaluate the incremental weight loss benefit and cost-effectiveness of delivering standard family-based treatment for pediatric overweight/obesity in the home setting vs. traditional medical settings.

Role: Co-Investigator

Active and Completed Grants as Research Mentor

Optimizing Utilization of Lay Health Workers to Address Maternal and Child Health Disparities: A Comprehensive Evaluation of a Clinically Integrated Breastfeeding Peer Counselor Program

K01 HS027906 (Keenan-Devlin) 06/2022 – 05/2027

Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality

Role: Mentor

Reaching the Most Vulnerable: A Novel Model of Care in Advanced Parkinson's Disease

K23NS097615 (Fleisher)

09/2017 – 06/2022

NIH/NINDS

Role: Mentor

Completed Research Grants

Health and Economic Outcomes among Former Very Low Birth Weight Infants from the “Reducing Disparity in Mother’s Own Milk
