Rush University COVID-19 Update

To: Rush University Students
Subj: Remote Learning Survey Results

Thank you for participating in the survey we sent out to assess the transition to remote learning during the COVID-19 outbreak. We have gathered these results and analyzed them to create recommendations for Rush University colleges, programs and faculty. This has been a difficult time and we are grateful for your continued dedication to your academic responsibilities. We would like to thank you for the valuable feedback you provided us on the survey. Your feedback contributed significantly to our understanding of your needs and concerns, and helped us put together additional supports and informational tools.

We will continue to gather feedback about your remote learning experience, including another survey next month to make sure that our adjustments are successful in improving your experience. In the meantime, please check out this link with survey results and responses to issues you may be having. We have also included a contact sheet in this email for you to save for quick reference.
